Airliner Crashes In Heavy Fog With 22 Dead And 21 Injuries

Engineers Check Wreckage, Look For Crash Clues

CHICAGO (AP)—Engineers are examining each instrument and part of a wrecked Braniff airliner today to determine why it crashed in flames, killing 22 persons and injuring 21.

The twin-engine Convair, loaded to capacity, was coming in low for an instrument landing in the early morning fog yesterday when it clipped a gasoline station sign at the edge of Midway Airport, flipped over and plowed into the ground.

"The plane should never have attempted the landing," said Cook County Coroner Walter McCarron, who is conducting an inquest.

At Dallas, Braniff headquarters said they would not comment on his statement at this time because "the investigation of the safety of this operation now is in the hands of investigators of the Civil Aeronautics Board."

The plane, en route from Dallas to Chicago, ticked the 15-foot-high electric sign, crashed a fence and spun onto its back inside the airport, one wing ripped off and the other aflame.

The wreckage skidded nearly half a mile, to within a few hundred yards of the airport fire station. Fast-acting crash crews put out the sea of gasoline flames within three minutes, saving many of the 43 persons aboard. The plane carried 40 passengers and a crew of three.

Several passengers died after reaching nearby hospitals. Of the remaining injured, only two were listed as in critical condition early today.

The crash was the second fatal mishap of a Braniff Airways plane in 25 years. The first was Aug. 22, 1954, when 12 persons were killed.

The passengers included many college students on their way home after Air Force Reserve training at bases in Texas.

The victims included: Lawrence H. Norton, 48, of Washington, who has supervised farm development programs in some 53 countries under the foreign aid program. His title was assistant director of the Food and Agriculture Office of the International Cooperation Administration.

The pilot, Capt. Allen Tobin, 43, of Dallas, an airline pilot for 15 years, and the stewardess, Miss Mary Teel, 23, of Camden, Ark. Copilot O. W. Hanks, a native of Des Moines, was seriously injured.

State Department Man To Park College Helm

PARKVILLE, Mo., (AP)—A representative of the State Department currently in Paris has been announced as the new president of Park College. He is Dr. Robert Eli Long, 40, who succeeded Dr. J. L. Zwingle who resigned in January to become vice president of Cornell University.

Robert W. Long, president of the college trustees who made the announcement of the appointment, said Dr. Long expects to assume his new post Sept. 1.

State Route B Nears Completion

State Route B, the Green Ridge to Sedalia road is receiving its final and third coat of oil. The work began on Saturday a week ago of applying the final and third coat of crushed gravel and oil to the surface of the road by the workmen of the Missouri State Highway Department.

The citizens of Green Ridge and the surrounding territory now have an excellent road to the County seat of Sedalia.

Teaser Weather

Rain clouds floating around town appear to just be teasers as no appreciable relief from the muggy atmosphere has been realized. In other words, it's stifling.

Partly cloudy, little change in temperature tonight and Tuesday. Chance of scattered thundershowers this afternoon and tonight. Low tonight in upper 60s. High Tuesday 80 to 90.

The temperature was 69 at 7 a. m. today and it was 81 degrees at 2 p. m.

The temperature Sunday at 7 a. m. was 69; it was 93 degrees at 2 p. m.

The temperatures a year ago were, high 112, low 82; two years ago, high 94, low 67; three years ago, high 87, low 73.

May Be a Grudge—

Investigate Truck Driver Slaying on New Suspicions

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Authorities today investigated the slaying of Floyd Oestrick, 36-year-old truck driver of Maxville, Mo., on the theory it was a grudge killing.

The body of the man was found Saturday in the trunk of his car which had been driven into a

Legion Backs Proposal For School Funds

Backs Proposal For Bigger Slice From State General Fund

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A proposal to give Missouri's public schools a bigger slice of the state's general revenue has the backing of the Missouri Department of the American Legion.

The department voted the support yesterday, overriding its resolutions committee which had tabled the resolution, at the windup of the department's 37th annual convention.

The proposal, which will be submitted to the state's voters Oct. 4, would increase the educational allotment from the state's general revenue from 33.3 to 37.5 per cent.

Garrett R. Crouch, 33-year-old Warrensburg lawyer and vice commander of the Western Division, was elected commander. He defeated Patrick H. Norton of Maplewood in a close contest.

Roy L. Carver of Columbia was elected vice commander of the Eastern Division, William J. Kenney of St. Joseph was named Western Division vice commander, and Howard Jackson of St. Louis vice commander at large.

Other officers elected included H. W. Elson of Excelsior Springs, sergeant at arms; Jack Hine of Joplin, historian; W. C. Maughns of Fulton, judge advocate, and the Rev. Arthur Tighe of Kansas City, chaplain.

Neil F. Cline of Kansas City was elected grand chef de gare, or commander, of the grand vulture of the 40-and-8 Society, the legion's fun-making organization.

An increase in the annual state legion dues from $1 to $1.50 was approved.

The legionaires went on record in support of a sabbate bonus for veterans not to exceed $600, establishment of a legion auxiliary to the Missouri Highway Patrol, and urging that Fort Leonard Wood be made a permanent Army post.

Speakers yesterday included Lt. Gov. James T. Blair, who condemned Brig. Gen. Louis Renfrow, deputy selective service director, who spoke out in support of pending national legislation which would strengthen the military reserve program.

The Tom Powell Post No. 77 of St. Louis won the drum and bugle corps contest, with Joplin Post No. 13 second, and St. Charles Post No. 312 third. Open competition was won by the Black Knights of the Belleville (Ill.) Demolition Council.

Iowans Welcome 12 Soviets To Their Farm For Visiting

SALTER, Iowa (AP)—An attractive young Iowa couple, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Alleman, welcomed 12 Soviet agricultural chiefs on their 160-acre farm here today.

Alleman, who served in Alaska with the U. S. Army from 1950-1952, greeted the head of the Soviet delegation, V. V. Matskevich, "We certainly want to welcome our Soviet friends, and we will answer all their questions," he said.

The Alleman farm swarmed with newsmen and photographers. Overhead an airplane circled, presumably to get overhead pictures.

Matskevich said to the Allemans: "How do you feel about this invasion?"

Mr. Alleman, dressed in a bright blue dress, replied: "It does not bother us. We're glad to have them."

Asked Matskevich: "Aren't you afraid they will break down your fences? If they do, you must make them stay and repair them." He laughed at his own joke.

The Russians went off with Alleman on a wagon to see the corn. A second wagon followed loaded with photographers.

Matskevich said: "I won't be disappointed if it breaks down. I'm afraid we're not going to be able to see the cows for the lenses."

The Allemans occupy a pleasant old farmhouse which has been remodeled from top to bottom.

The Allemans told correspondents they net about $5,000 a year from a gross of about $9,000.

Richard said, when asked how he felt toward Russians, that he has "no particular animosity."

The outgoing officers are: president, L. A. Pharris; vice-president, Dr. David Robinson and secretary, Mrs. Lucille White.

The council discussed a new project which is to be initiated this month. In cooperation with the Sedalia Air Force Base outstanding airmen from each of the 16 squadrons stationed at the base will be entertained at regular meetings of various civic clubs.

The project was planned in conjunction with the Public Affairs Committee of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce.

The outstanding airman of each squadron for a month, chosen on his merits will be brought to Sedalia to attend one of the sessions of a civic club at which time he will receive a special merit award from the civic club on behalf of the council and the chamber of commerce.

The airmen and non commissioned officers chosen for these awards will be selected by officials at the local air base.

The first group of 16 will attend the noon meeting of the Lions club Wednesday, July 27, at the Bothwell Hotel.

The second group will attend the noon meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday, July 28.

The two groups will represent those airmen of the month for June and July.

Ike's Home Town Has Special Peace Prayer

ABILENE (AP)—Along with much of the nation, this hometown of President Eisenhower held special prayers yesterday in answer to his radio appeal of Friday night.

At services in the town's churches and at a special prayer on the steps of the Eisenhower museum here residents prayed for divine guidance for the President and other world leaders at the Geneva conference.

Some 250 persons gathered at the museum as Dr. David Townsend on the steps of Eisenhower memorial Assn. and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, led the service.

Husband Dies Of Stabbing

Airman Dies After Doctor Arrives; Wife Admits Slaying After Being Abused

Mrs. Leola Betty Brown, 34, Negro, is held in the Pettis County jail on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of her husband S-Sgt. Peter M. Brown, 39, about midnight Saturday. The incident took place at the Brown home, 211 East Morgan, shortly before midnight and the man died at the home at 12:43 a. m. Sunday.

The woman gave a statement before Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors, Night Chief of Police Theodore Gardner, Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick, Deputy Sheriff's George Brown and Ed George, police officers Buckner and Tom Moffitt, admitting the stabbing of her husband. Later she reviewed the statement for copying purposes and signed it.

Police were summoned to the Brown home at 12:23 a. m. by Dr. A. R. Maddox who had been called to the residence and could not get into the house. In the meantime Mrs. Brown opened the door and Dr. Maddox with A-2e Walter Tucker, a neighbor and friend of the sergeant and his wife, entered the house and found S-Sgt. Brown lying on the floor in the dining room in front of a door leading into the kitchen, a stab wound in his chest.

Dr. Maddox administered a heart stimulant but it did not react and he died 20 minutes later.

According to the police information they obtained from Mrs. Brown, she told of her husband coming home from the Sedalia Air Force Base where he was stationed and started arguing with her. "He hasn't been too happy recently because he was to go overseas again," she said. He had returned from overseas in December and didn't see why he had to go back so soon.

"When he came home and started arguing I just tried to pay no attention, and went and fixed supper," she said. "Then he told me to get the dishes cleaned up and left home and went downtown. I told him, when he asked me, that I was staying home and would play cards with some friends. He came back home later and we were on the porch and he went inside and in a few minutes he came to the window and started fussin' at me again."

"I went inside and he popped me on the jaws twice. He went out of the bedroom and back into the kitchen and called me out to feed him. I told him he had been fed and I wasn't going to fix anything. He popped me again and went back to the bedroom, but said before he went he was going to kill me."

"When I started out of the kitchen, he was standing in the dining room and he threw a big knife at me and it hit the refrigerator or washing machine, but I ducked back and behind the stove. If he hadn't it would have hit me here. Please turn to page 2, Column 2."

Ike Offers Six-Point Plan To Avert Atomic Warfare

EISENHOWERS WELCOMED TO GENEVA—President and Mrs. Eisenhower, right, are welcomed to Geneva on arrival at the Cointin airport after one-stop flight from Washington. Exchange Friendly Greetings—

Eisenhower, Zhukov and Khrushchev Have Friendly Meeting at Big Four Conference

GENEVA (AP)—President Eisenhower and Georgi K. Zhukov greeted each other warmly today—but Nikita Khrushchev soon took over the conversation.

Zhukov, Soviet defense minister who is a delegate to the summit conference, was talking with Eisenhower for the first time since 1945. Then Khrushchev, boss of the Soviet Communist party, came up. He grabbed the President's hand and said:

"Mr. President, my daughter is getting married in Russia this week and I suppose I should have stayed for the ceremony, but I didn't. I wanted to come to Geneva and meet you."

The meeting took place as the summit conference got under way at the Palace of Nations. It was described by a member of the U. S. delegation.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said the President and Zhukov "had a very enthusiastic meeting."

Hagerty said Eisenhower's first greetings today were extended to the Russian delegation. The President shook hands first with Premier Bulganin, then with Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, then Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. The "very enthusiastic meeting" with Zhukov came next.

Eisenhower, Hagerty said, inquired about the health of Zhukov's wife. Zhukov in turn asked about the President's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, an aide to his father at the conference.

But the tone of his address was mild. When he had finished President Eisenhower—today's chairman—praised the spirit shown by all four delegations. He said the conference "will be a great success" if that spirit is sustained.

The Russian decision to contribute to the international pool for peaceful utilization of atomic material came as something of a surprise. The United States has earmarked 220 pounds of fissionable material for the pool, and President Eisenhower in his opening address to the conference today said:

"We regret that the Soviet Union has never accepted our proposal of December 1953 that nations possessing stockpiles of fissionable material should join to contribute to a world bank so as, in steadily increasing measure, to substitute cooperation in human welfare for competition in means of human destruction. We still believe that if the Soviet Union would according to its ability contribute to this great project, that act would improve the international climate."

It was not known whether the policy-making Soviet delegation, including Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, made the decision to join the atom pool after Eisenhower spoke, or came to Geneva prepared to do so. However, Soviet sources said they were late distributing the text of Bulganin's speech because extensive changes were made after he heard Eisenhower, Eden and Faure.

The specific proposals put forward by Bulganin on European security provided for action in two stages:

1. An agreement by all European countries and the United States to refrain from the use of force in settling disputes and a freeze on all foreign troops on European soil.

2. An agreement to set up a new all-European collective security system to come into effect simultaneously. (Please turn to page 2, Column 3)

Senators View Revised Academy Designing Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force today unveiled thoroughly revised plans for the modernistic buildings of its proposed Air Force Academy. The detailed sketches received a friendly reception from a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

Secretary of the Air Force Talbott and his architect aides announced they will make a fresh start on plans for the academy's chapel—after a storm of controversy over the original plans has subsided.

In today's appearance, Talbott and the architects showed only the designs for the rest of the project, its buildings connected by balcony-like "sidewalks in the air." The chapel was skipped.

The house had refused to appropriate any further funds for construction of the 126 million dollar academy near Colorado Springs, Colo., after the row over the chapel design.

Talbott told the senators the project is "vital," and asked them to restore to the bill 79 millions the house had stricken from it. He also asked them to remove a "freeze" the house had voted on his right to spend 15 millions appropriated for the academy but not yet spent.

Confidence Game Works For $42,500

ST. JOSEPH — A man who professed to be able to "sensitize" blank paper into currency took some $42,500 of the real stuff from a credulous St. Joseph tavern operator, police reported.

Highway Patrolman Jack Inman identified the confidence game victim as Leo Foster. Inman recovered $19,500 from a tree stump hiding place near Union Star, Mo. Saturday.

Foster's bartender, Raymond Combs, was being questioned by police over the weekend. Inman said Combs admitted introducing the confidence artist to Foster and getting the $19,500 as his share of the loot. It was this sum that was found in the tree stump, the officer said.

Inman said the swindler worked this way: He demonstrated he could put "sensitized" blank paper between real bills and convert the blanks into money by using ink soaked out of real bills with a chemical. But, the swindler said, he didn't have much of the valuable blanks and he told Foster to get all the large bills he could.

Foster and Combs collected $42,500 in $500 bills from banks. Foster was then taken to a tourist court where the con man dimmed the lights (because of the sensitive paper) and inserted the blank paper between the bills. He gave the bundle to Foster with the caution not to open it for 36 hours to permit completion of the chemical process. Thereupon the confidence man left. Foster became suspicious, opened the bundle and found only blank paper.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Mary Meyer

Mrs. Mary Meyer, about 84, died Saturday in New York City at the home of her son where she had made her home since her husband's death, John H. Meyer in 1922.

Mrs. Meyer was in Illinois moving to Benton County while a child. She moved to Sedalia after her marriage. Mr. Meyer was in a Cole Camp store. In Sedalia he was a salesman for Lamy Manufacturing Co.

She is survived by two sons, Leonard Meyer, New York, and Bill Meyer, California state; two brothers, C. C. Nash, Cole Camp, and C. W. Nash, North Branch, Mich.; a niece, Mrs. C. C. Davis, Lincoln.

The body will arrive in Sedalia at 5:55 p.m. Tuesday on the Missouri-Pacific accompanied by her son. It will be taken to McLaughlin Funeral Chapel where services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Burial will be at the side of her husband in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Edward F. Hardey

Edward F. Hardey, 78, 1233 West 63rd, Kansas City, who suffered cuts of the face and a jaw injury in a traffic accident last Monday, July 11, died Sunday at Research Hospital, Kansas City.

Mr. Hardey's youth was spent at LaMonte and on reaching manhood took a position in St. Louis with an electrical company later moving to Chicago, then Kansas City.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hardey, pioneer residents of Pettis County.

Mr. Hardey was injured when the car he was driving brushed against flat steel bars being carried on a rack on the side of a truck at Nineteenth street terrace and Broadway. The bars went through the car windshield and slashed his left cheek.

Lieut. Frank Wells of the police traffic and safety unit said he would not be able to rule whether the death was the result of the accident until today. One of Mr. Hardey's physicians said the elderly man suffered a stroke which was the probable cause of death.

Mr. Hardey was born in LaMonte, Mo., and had been a resident of Kansas City since 1904. He was a member of the Electric club.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. A. N. Adams, Jr., of the home, a granddaughter, sister, M. I. McDaniel, and a brother, Virgil Hardey, Chicago, Ill.

Husband Dies

(pointing to her lower left side), and he said he was going back and get another knife. I picked up a small carving knife and went into the bedroom where he was trying to get another knife out of the dresser and as he raised and faced me I popped him like this (showing a back hand movement) with the knife.

"He followed me out and went back to the dining room where he fell on the floor. I went over and picked up his head and got blood all over me. When I picked him up he said, 'It isn't any use, I'm going to die.' I ran out of the house up to Tuckers (A-2 Tucker) and told him I had cut Peter and he and his wife came down to the house and I went in and he went to someplace and called the doctor," she said.

A-2 Tucker told the officers of the Brown woman coming to his house. He went back, saw how bad he was hurt then went to the home of Les Hammonds, 212 East Morgan and called the doctor and waited for him. Dr. Maddox arrived and the front door would not open.

Dr. Maddox said he knocked and the woman said, "Wait a minute I'm changing my clothes." Dr. Maddox reported that when he could not get in he went to a phone and notified the police.

A small black cat which roamed through the house and around the yard caught the attention of the crowd which had gathered. Hammonds, who was in the front yard, was telling officers about Tucker using the phone to call the doctor, then remarked when the cat walked by "I was talking to him about that cat and told him I'd get rid of it because it was bad luck."

When the officers arrived they were ushered into the house to the dining room where Dr. Maddox was working with the man. He was unconscious and died a few minutes later. Police notified the Air Patrol from the Sedalia Air Force Base, and they in turn notified officers of the base who went to the house and along with the civilian authorities conducted an investigation.

Brown, according to his wife, was born at Brunswick, Ga., Oct. 31, 1915, the son of Mrs. Ollie Hardy. His father died several years ago. He had been in the Air Force for the past seven years and eight months, and stationed at the SAFB the past eight months.

He was assigned to the 340th Refueling Squadron at the local base.

Surviving him are his mother, now residing in Jacksonville, Fla., a brother, James R. Brown, Jacksonville, and his wife of the home here in Sedalia.

The attendants with an ambulance from the SAFB took the body to the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, who was called, viewed the body at the home, made an investigation and stated an inquest

UN Delegates Hopeful Over Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — U.N. delegates and officials are hopeful about the French plan to save on disarmament and spend on a better way of life—the plan Premier Edgar Faure plans to put before the summit conference opening today.

He has encouraged them to believe that the U.N. soon can move faster in promoting its stated goal of "higher standards of living, full employment and conditions of economic and social progress."

The Premier has suggested that the Big Four, "along with a program of general disarmament," start putting part of their military budgets into a special fund open to all nations. This fund would be devoted to "the development of countries or regions of the world which are insufficiently developed, and to the improvement of the standards of living of the most unfortunate populations."

Similar suggestions had been made on several occasions before. One such came from President Eisenhower in a speech in April 1953.

What points up the Faure plan, in the view of some people at the U.N., is that it comes from a country that has shown some reluctance to put money into U.N. aid projects, and that it was advanced on the eve of Geneva.

ously with complete termination of NATO, the Paris agreement to permit West German rearmament, and the Warsaw treaty, which provides for a NATO type organization for Eastern Europe.

Bulgarian then declared the Soviet Union had accepted Western proposals concerning the limitation of conventional armaments and said that in return "We are entitled to expect that these powers would take a step which would insure agreement on the prohibition of atomic weapons; that would put the whole problem of disarmament on firm ground."

Continuing his disarmament theme, Bulgarian announced that the Soviet Union planned to demobilize the troops it withdraws from Austria upon coming into force of a peace treaty for that country and urged the Western Powers to do the same.

The four leaders decided to meet tomorrow at 4 p.m. (9 a.m. CST).

In today's session, after Eisenhower made the opening speech, Faure and Eden came forward with their ideas. The British Prime Minister proposed that the Big Four seek agreement on arms ceilings for Germany and neighboring countries, with the four powers joining in a system of controls.

Whereabouts Unknown Of Released Bishop

VIENNA, Austria — Church officials in Budapest said yesterday they did not know the whereabouts of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty.

Budapest radio announced Saturday that the life sentence of Hungary's 63-year-old Roman Catholic primate had been "interrupted" at his request and a church building had been placed "at his disposal by the bishops."

It appeared that Cardinal Mindszenty now would undergo the same sort of confinement as that Yugoslav President Tito has decreed for Alojz Cardinal Stepinac. Since his release from prison in December 1951, Cardinal Stepinac has been restricted to his native village of Krasic.

Budapest radio said the Communist Hungarian government had ordered Cardinal Mindszenty's temporary release because of his "age and state of health."

Officials at the Budapest diocese, reached by phone yesterday said, "We do not know where Cardinal Mindszenty is now." From his former official residence near Esztergom the reply was, "The cardinal is not here."

Manila Residents Buy Old School Property

A group of residents of the Manila community were the successful bidders at the sale of the Manila rural school property southeast of Green Ridge. Bids for the property were opened and read by the board of education of Green Ridge School District R-8 at a meeting held on Wednesday night, July 6.

The top bid submitted by the group was $1,045 and the money was raised through public subscription by residents of the Manila community. Paul Rothenberger, William Riecke and Bob Campbell composed the committee in charge of soliciting funds.

It is planned to use the school building as a community hall for organizations of the Manila community.

It would be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the funeral home.

In the meantime the wife will be held in the county jail without bond until after the inquest is conducted and the preliminary hearing is held before Magistrate Frank T. Armstrong. Prosecuting Attorney Barick said it would be possible to change the charge depending on what evidence comes from the inquest and preliminary hearing.

Adenauer Sets Up Headquarters For Big 4 Conference

BONN, Germany — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer left Bonn today for Switzerland to set up headquarters on the fringe of the Big Four summit conference.

From a mountain-top hotel at Muerrren, Switzerland, 90 miles from Geneva, Adenauer will be in constant contact with the conference — and possibly with the Big Four leaders themselves as they consider the future of Germany.

Grim and noncommittal, the 79-year-old German leader departed with his staff in a private railway car hooked to the crack Rheingold express.

Adenauer's villa is linked to his delegation of observers in Geneva and to the foreign ministry in Bonn by a private high-speed telephone circuit.

In Geneva he is represented by a 12-man delegation headed by Herbert Blankenhorn, permanent German representative at the North Atlantic Council in Paris and one of his closest foreign policy advisers.

The Geneva group will transmit Adenauer's views to the Big Four on such questions as German unity, disarmament plans and European security.

Believes Scotch And Soda Impotent Drink

DES MOINES, —Aleksander Yezhevsky, Soviet farm delegate, thinks Scotch and soda is a sissy drink.

D. A. Lawson Becomes Bride Of J. L. Naes

Miss Dolly Ann Lawson, Sedalia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawson Barnett, and A-1c Jude L. Naes, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Naes, St. Louis, were united in marriage at 10 o'clock Saturday morning June 25, at the Ascension of Our Lord Church in Normandy. The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Vincent L. Naes, uncle of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white brocaded satin fashioned with fitted bodice, low rounding neck, three-quarter length sleeves and softly gathered skirt. A crown of white satin and seed pearls held her fingertip-length veil. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a purple throated white orchid.

Mrs. Grover Cornett, sister of the bride was matron of honor and Miss Bernadine Naes, aunt of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore gowns of green and yellow nylon marquisette over taffeta, fashioned similar to the bride's.

Miss Joan Marie Naes, sister of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. She wore a gown of white nylon lace over orchid taffeta. The attendants wore small hats in colors matching their dresses and they carried nosegays of red carnations.

Mr. Jerry Weiler, St. Louis, was best man and Mr. Eddie Golden, St. Louis, was groomsmen. Ushers were Mr. Dick Naes, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Don Bovinett, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a light printed voile dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a pink dress with white accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

After the ceremony a breakfast was held at the Heedeburg Inn in Ferguson.

The couple left on a trip to the Ozarks.

Mrs. Naes is employed at Lamy's Manufacturing Co. and the groom is stationed with the Air Force at S.A.F.B.

They are residing at the Harrison Apartments.

Association Collects Clothes for Children In Hong Kong, China

The Presbyterian Women's Association of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church held its regular monthly meeting July 14 at the basement in the church.

A contributive dinner was served at noon and the executive meeting was held at one o'clock at which the president, Mrs. A. M. Kendrick presided.

At two o'clock the regular business meeting was held. Mrs. Mattie Myers opened the meeting with prayer. The fellowship chairman, Mrs. Loy Smith, made a report and also Mrs. Edna Ryan who is chairman of world service.

During the business meeting the members voted to buy 100 sponges for World Service to be used in Mission Hospitals. They also voted to send a box of new and used clothing for children under six years of age to Hong Kong, China, as soon as the clothing can be got together.

As a project the circle leaders decided to sell Christmas cards in their own circles. Mrs. Earl Hinken was in charge of the prayer service for National Missionaries in West Virginia and foreign missionaries in Europe.

Mrs. Clyde Galbreath was the leader of the program, "Summer Offering Dedication to Medical Missions". The program opened with a hymn, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations". Mrs. A. N. Baker told of the need and use of Medical Missions in Mission Medical Colleges in India; Mrs. J. A. Gordon, need of Medical Missions in Cuba; Mrs. R. A. Liberty Homemakers Have a Discussion On Family Relations

Mrs. Elmer D. Botts led the discussion on "Family Relations" at the July meeting of the Liberty Homemakers Extension Club which met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John W. Brosch. After her review of a magazine article which stressed the results of different types of parental attitudes toward social development of children in the home, others in the group responded with similar observations.

Eleven members answered roll call on "What Our Family Enjoys Doing Together." Mrs. Botts led the group in singing two songs and Mrs. C. L. Rages, Jr. gave the devotional. Mrs. Parke Green and Mrs. Rages told of the tour trip to the California Woolen Mills. The group voted to contribute toward the Campbell-Harrison house fund and the Pennies for Friendship fund of the international group. A report from the cancer dressing meeting was that 149 dressings were completed by the 12 members present at the meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Green. The news letter from Mrs. Kathryn Zimmerman was read.

Mrs. Brosch assisted by her daughter, Ruth Ann Brosch, served refreshments to: Mrs. Botts, Mrs. D. P. Green, Mrs. Parke Green, Mrs. C. L. May, Miss Mamie McCormick, Mrs. Rages, Mrs. Harvey E. Isabel Martin R. R. Stoecklein Exchange Vows

At half past 8 o'clock Saturday morning, June 18, Miss Isabel Ann Martin exchanged vows with Mr. Robert Ray Stoecklein at St. Martin's Catholic Church near Pilot Grove. The double ring service was performed by the Rev. J. M. Hartigan. The church was decorated with arrangements of lilies and spring flowers.

Miss Martin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Martin, Boonville and the groom is the son of Mr. Frank Stoecklein, Sr., Pilot Grove, and the late Mrs. Stoecklein.

Miss Jeanette Krumm, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mr. Frank Bauer as he sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin fashioned with a snug fitted bodice, scalloped portrait neckline and long sleeves. The very full skirt was worn over hoops and featured a front lace panel with panels of accordin pleated nylon tulle on each side. Tiers of lace ruffles adorned the back of the skirt. Her fingertip veil of tulle, fell from a small lace hat trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a purple orchid on a lace covered prayer book, which had been carried by her mother on her wedding day. She also carried a handmade lace handkerchief, made by the bride's sister, Mrs. George Horst. She wore a gold cross, a gift of the groom.

Miss Edna Martin, San Francisco, Calif., was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of yellow Chantilly lace and net over taffeta with snug fitted sleeveless bodice and full lace skirt with an accordin pleated front panel. She wore a yellow picture hat and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

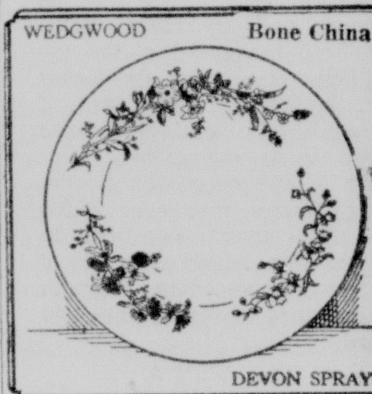

Mrs. Roy Stoecklein, Blue Springs, sister-in-law of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Miss Sharon Stoecklein, Boonville, niece of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. They wore mint green gowns and picture hats identical to the honor attendant's and they carried yellow carnations.

Rose Mary Bauer, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of mint green Chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned similar to those worn by the attendants. She carried roses.

Robert Horst, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow edged with lace.

Mr. Roy Stoecklein, Blue Springs, served as best man for his twin brother, Mr. Charles Stoecklein, brother of the groom was groomsmen, and ushers were Mr. Kenneth Kempf and Mr. Emil Martin.

The bride's mother wore a steel

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee. *Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Aid For The Indigent Sick

Proper medical care and hospitalization of Pettis County indigent citizens for many years has been a joint concern of welfare agencies, county administrations and the medical profession. During that time it has presented many problems and created some very diverse and contradictory opinions on who should be responsible for paying the bills. Indigent sick were usually caught in the middle while the discussion raged.

Now the Pettis County Court, the Pettis County Medical Society, Bothwell Hospital management, a group of Sedalia druggists and the County Welfare office have completed a cooperative six-month Pettis County Medical Plan for the care of indigent sick. The trial run has met with such success each agency has expressed a desire for a formal medical contract to put perpetual life into the plan.

The cost factors developed under the administrative control of the Welfare Agency of which Miss Roseanne Dugan is director reflect reasonable figures. They may be more, they may be less as time goes on — but the effect of close supervision will keep them to a minimum. While this is, of course, important in the eyes of the taxpayer — the real accomplishment is the prospect of an era of peaceful, adequate administration in the care of the indigent sick in which each of the participating agencies has joint responsibilities and accepts them on the basis of a prearranged plan which obviates the uncertainties heretofore encountered.

Basically the plan was inaugurated to provide necessary medical care for indigent patients who are unable to meet unusual financial strain caused by illness. It is not meant to be a source of medical care for everyone who finds it difficult to meet the necessities of life. The entire population might qualify under the latter interpretation.

Success of this kind of plan depends on proper supervision. Adequate controls will prevent abuse of the privileges and any lessening of fair and adequate administration will ultimately cause the plan to collapse, formal contract or no formal contract.

The six-month test of the program proves it can be done, but such temporary success should not dull the edge of continuing cooperative interest in this sensitive project.

Drew Pearson Says—

Far East Experts In Hailing Distance

GENEVA — When President Eisenhower met with congressional leaders in Washington just before hopping off for the "summit," he gave categorical assurances that he would not discuss the Far East with Premier Bulganin. He told congressional leaders it would not be fair to Nationalist China and other Asiatic nations which would not be present.

However, hidden in secret quarters just outside Paris are 15 of the State Department's top experts on Asia and Africa. They were sent just in case Ike had to yield to the Russians and discuss Far Eastern problems.

One reason for sending these 15 experts is a private warning received from the Red Chinese via the Indian government that Communist China will begin its long-expected attack on the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu immediately after the Geneva conference — unless the United States agrees to meet with Premier Chou En-Lai to discuss problems of the Far East.

The Communist Chinese threat, of course, amounts to diplomatic blackmail. However, U. S. intelligence has checked the friendly message sent by the Indian government and finds it is all too true. The Chinese are not bluffing. They have built up long-range artillery and excellent air bases just opposite the offshore islands and are prepared to make mincemeat of them.

So Eisenhower advisers suggest it might be better to sit down with the Chinese in advance rather than risk a dangerous war around Formosa. Also, it's certain that despite Eisenhower's pledges to Senator Knowland, et al, the Far East will be discussed at Geneva.

Dulles' Optimism

John Foster Dulles, who lives at the villa of Mrs. Louise Worthington Boothe, just two minutes' drive from Ike's ornate villa on Lake Geneva, is watching the President like a cat nurse a lone kitten. He wants no flub to mar the united front, such as his and Ike's directly contrary statements that Russia was weak and Russia was strong.

Dulles speaks with private pride about the President, the pride of a tutor who has trained a young charge in foreign affairs. He described the President as exuding optimism. "He feels it in his viscera," says the learned Secretary of State, "Viscera," translated to everyday language, of course, means "gut."

There is no doubt that Eisenhower has felt increasingly optimistic about his ability to talk, charm, negotiate Bulganin into something akin to easing up the cold war.

And Foster Dulles, who one month ago was quite glum about accomplishment at the "summit," now is singing a much more optimistic tune.

Molotov's Change

Chief reason for Dulles' change was his San Francisco talks with crusty old Foreign Minister Molotov, who in San Francisco wasn't crusty at all. Molotov seemed almost pathetically eager to come to an understanding with the United States. He talked of nothing but the absolute necessity of getting along as a real friend with the United States.

"I am getting along in years," Dulles quoted Molotov as saying, "and my one great ambition before I retire is to make it possible for Russia and the United States to restore their once fraternal friendship."

Molotov promised Dulles to use his influence on Red China to keep peace in the Far East and even agreed to consider a plan to have Russia join the western European union as one big defense community.

Dulles came to the conclusion, and has so reported to his associates at Geneva, that the Kremlin leaders are worried over their own precarious internal situation and are willing to make concessions. He also advised that the west might well wait; for Russian willingness to compromise might increase as her economic troubles increased.

Other Advisers Differ

The Dulles' view, however, is a long way from being shared by other Eisenhower advisers. Some differ with him vigorously. Here are the differing groups of advisers around the President as he begins his first session at the summit:

Group No. 1 — Are political advisers, worried sick for fear the President may pull another Yalta. They remember all too vividly what they themselves did to Franklin Roosevelt after publication of the Yalta papers; and they fear the Democrats might do the same thing to Ike if he flubs at Geneva.

Especially they are worried if he gives any concession to the Russians. That's why Dulles despite his optimism, has told congressmen privately that the American benefits from the Geneva talks will not be apparent for two years, while the benefits to Russia might be apparent immediately.

Group No. 2 — Are military advisers who have warned Eisenhower repeatedly that Russia is not weak; that from a military point of view she is ahead of the USA in many weapons. This crowd also includes U. S. intelligence experts.

They are worried that the President, who, like Roosevelt, has confidence in his own ability to win people, may become too trusting, may fall for Bulganin's charms. They are keeping their fingers crossed, don't believe the Russians can possibly be willing to negotiate any genuine agreements.

Those are the men around Ike who, you can rest assured, are not going to let him get too far out on any diplomatic limbs.

Coolers Really Hot

Does a tall, cool one really cool you off? Or does it make you hotter?

That perennial hot-weather debate was raised at the Venezuelan embassy where guests were tossing down mint juleps and gin-and-tonic to try to beat the 93 degree heat outside.

Hostess Senora Georgina C. de Gonzales, wife of the Ambassador, neatly dodged the issue by saying, "It's really the air conditioning that keeps you cool."

A more frank spokesman on the subject is Ed Trilling, one of the top caterers in town. He reports:

"No matter how you mix it, the more alcohol you take, the hotter you're going to get. Actually, the only thing that does any good is holding a cold glass. But to make the guests think they're getting chilled by drinking, we usually eliminate the martinis and manhattans in summer and serve Tom Collins and gin-and-tonic instead. However, the veteran bourbon and scotch drinkers usually don't care what the weather is like."

'New China', Old Tyranny

The Asian neutralists constantly refer to the Peiping regime as the "New China," implying thereby that a great and wonderful era of progress is now unfolding behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Not too well publicized is the fact that an Indian labor union delegation which visited Red China this spring left the country abruptly, two weeks ahead of schedule. The delegates were shocked at the conditions they discovered in the "New China."

What they found, of course, was the old tyranny. Every device of tyranny known to the modern practitioners in the Kremlin and elsewhere was and is being employed in Communist China.

To look upon developments in China as the forward strides of a promising new civilization is to declare oneself totally blind. The events that are remaking that vast land are no newer than death or slavery. They are the principal marks of China today.

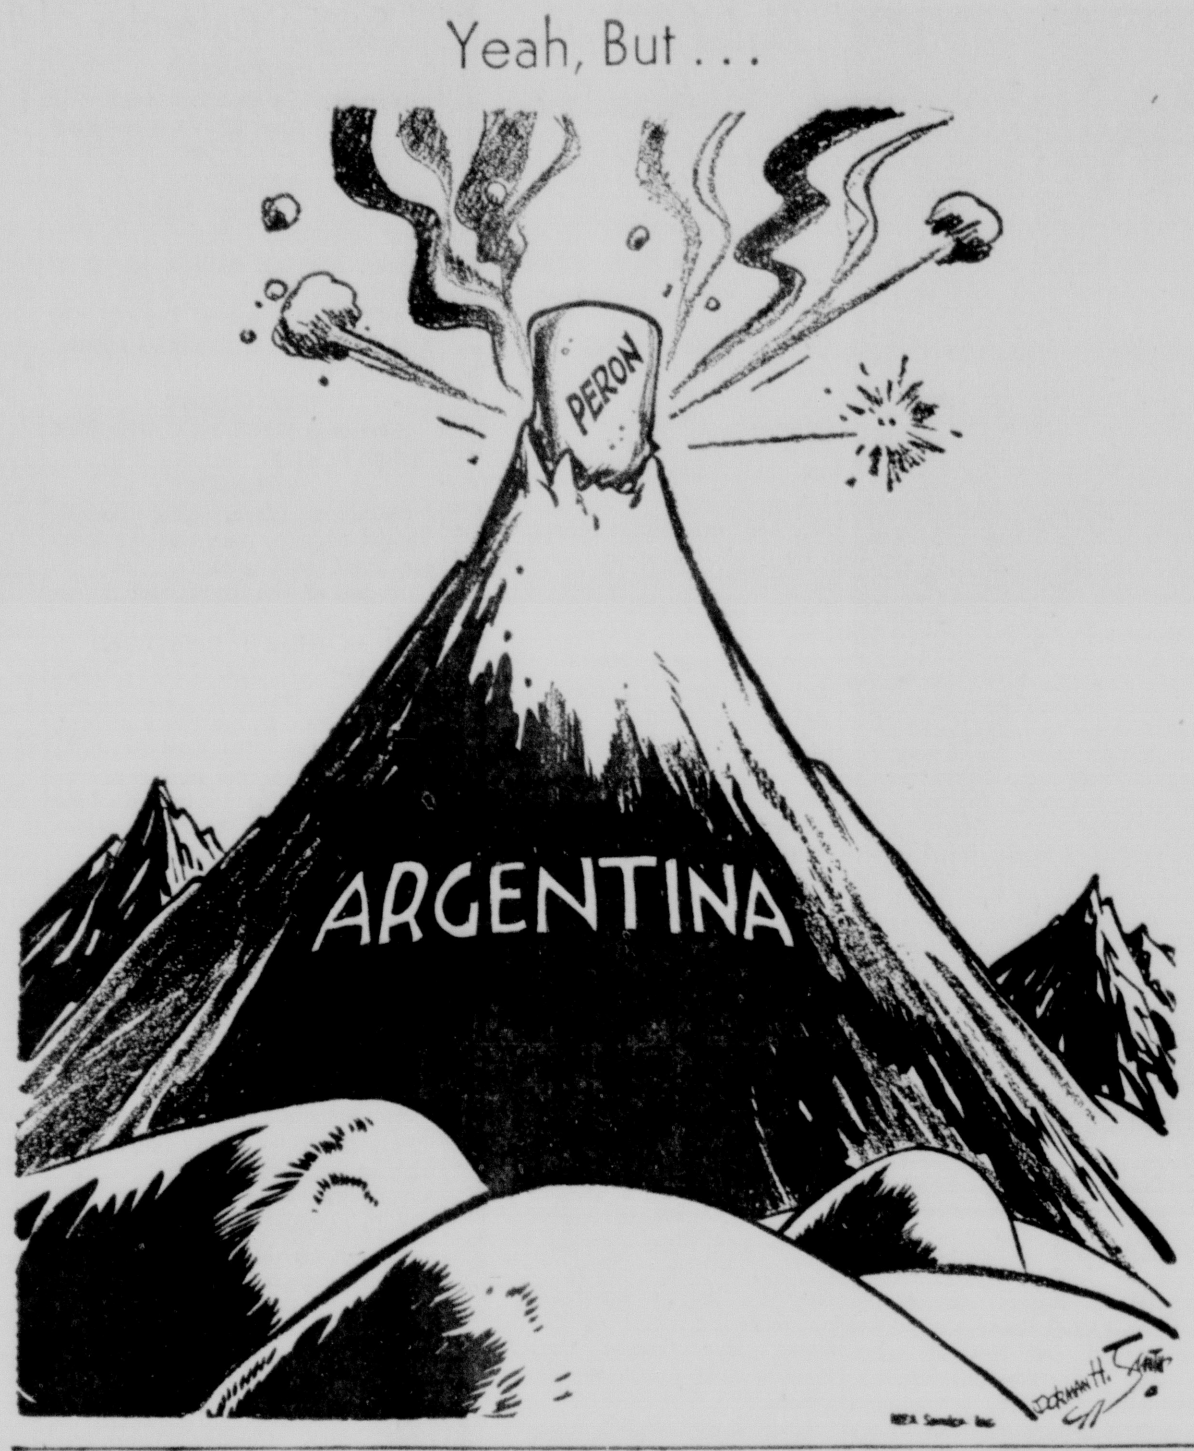

Thought for Today

Because thine heart was tender, and thou didst humble thyself before God, when thou hearest his words against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thyself before me, and didst rend thy clothes, and weep before me; I have even heard thee also saith the Lord.—II Chron. 34:27.

Humility is eldest-born of Virtue, and claims the birthright at the throne of heaven.—Arthur Murphy.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Some People Are Believed To Be Accident-Prone

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

The problem of motor vehicle accidents is appalling. They were responsible for about 36,500 deaths during 1954 and an enormous number of nonfatal injuries.

Today the chances of dying in or from a motor vehicle accident are almost as great as from heart disease or cancer.

It is interesting that there is a great geographical variation in the hazards of fatal motor vehicle accidents. The dangers are least in the New England states followed by New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The risk is higher in the central states of the United States, the south and along the Pacific coast. They are most of all in the Rocky Mountain states. The reasons for these geographical differences are certainly worthy of study.

The medical profession is interested in possibilities of reducing deaths, injuries, or illnesses from any cause, including those from accidents. We do, therefore, have a part to play in this enormous problem.

It is now believed that there are some people who are particularly likely to be involved in traffic accidents.

In the state of Connecticut, for example, it was shown by a six-year study that about 1-25 of the automobile drivers were involved in more than one-third of the traffic accidents. Such persons are sometimes called "accident-prone."

It would be of great help, therefore, if the worst "accident-prone" individuals could be identified and ruled off the streets, and highways. This would aid greatly to the safety of the rest of us.

There are methods by which it is believed that the accident-prone individual can be identified. He (or she) is considered impulsive and concentrated on immediate pleasures or satisfaction and thus likely to act on the spur of the moment.

The accident-prone person is believed to have an instinct of rebellion and resentment and to demonstrate the "show-off" and "don't give a damn" type of psychology.

Another method of attack on the problem is to pay greater attention to the physical condition of the drivers of our motor vehicles. Obviously, a person with really poor eyesight cannot be as safe a driver as one who has good vision. Probably too, there are other physical characteristics which enter into the picture.

Some physicians have made specific suggestions regarding the design of cars which would lessen the danger of death or serious injury if the car did become involved in an accident.

These suggestions have included belts for the passengers to hold them in place similar to those on airplanes, and governors which would keep the speed of the vehicle below the most dangerous levels. So far as I know few, if any, automobile designers have followed these suggestions.

There is one encouraging note. Although there were over 36,000 deaths from traffic accidents in 1954 this was nearly 2000 fewer than in the preceding year in spite of the increased mileage traveled.

Child Killed by Car

GREEN CITY, Mo., (AP)—Three-year-old Randy Lane Baxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Baxter of Phoenix, Ariz., was killed by a car as he ran across the road in front of his grandmother's house near Green City Saturday.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Ross Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Cunningham, 1507 East Seventh Street, who has been working in the Canal Zone, Panama, has returned to Sedalia to visit his parents and friends here.

—1930—

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chadwick and Dr. and Mrs. F. O. Murphy, of 1001 East Fourth Street, has as their guests since the Fourth of July Mr. and Mrs. Chris Fields, a nephew of Mr. Chadwick. Mr. Fields, lives in Los Angeles, Calif., and for the past month has been visiting various points in Missouri.

—1930—

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, 1419 West Fourth, are home from Atlantic City, N.J., where Mr. Ferguson attended a convention of the Railway Men's Association. Mr. Ferguson stopped in Illinois enroute home to visit relatives and was accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Margaret, who has been visiting in Clinton, Ill.

—1930—

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Peabody and son, Leonard, have returned from a visit with relatives and friends at Cedar Rapids and other points in Iowa and in northern parts of Missouri.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Fred Ross, Joseph Riley, Con Quinn and Newton Elmore, who left last Sunday morning in young Elmore's car for Kansas City, returned to Sedalia Saturday morning after a most enjoyable trip. While away, the party visited Lexington, where they made a two-day visit. They did not meet with a single accident either on the way to Kansas City nor on the return trip.

—1915—

Van Gorrell, Stanley Haggard and W. C. Gillespie, all residing west of Sedalia, have purchased silos, which will be erected on their farms in time for the fall crop.

—1915—

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Newton of West Third Street, accompanied by their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Monegan, will leave early Sunday morning for a day's fishing trip on the Lamine River near Ottaville.

—1915—

Harry Dobel will leave Sunday morning for a short visit with friends in Kansas City.

—1915—

J. H. Meyer returned to Cole Camp Saturday morning after a business visit here.

Capital Learns How to Live Without Streetcars, Buses

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Can you imagine how the pattern of your life would change if all the street cars and buses in your town suddenly stopped running?

Here in Washington, a city of nearly a million, we have been finding out since July 1 how to operate during the strike of the Capital Transit Co. It isn't easy but transportation in the Nation's Capital isn't paralyzed. But it is pinched.

I never realized how dependent I was on taxis until this strike came along and everyone wanted a taxi. I waited, more or less patiently, outside the National Press Building 30 minutes the other night about 5 o'clock. That's just the time when thousands of government workers were pouring out of government buildings . . . wondering how they would get home in time for supper without their usual transportation of street cars and buses.

Our streets look so different. Only motor vehicles and so many more! The parking problem is really acute and cars are parked right on the not-used street car tracks, at bus stops, and everywhere and with police sanction. There's a cop on every corner. Taxicabs are all out. At every bus stop hitch-hikers gather.

People are taking the strike in stride and that's no pun on the walking of which there is more. Secretary of Treasury George Humphrey, held up in a line of traffic, got out of his limousine and walked five blocks to the White House. Vice-President Richard Nixon just grabs the extra slow travel-time to read the morning paper in the back seat of his car. Women rush out to intersections and give cool drinks to the policemen who are working overtime to make glugged traffic keep moving sometimes, excitingly, right through the red lights.

The pros and cons of the strike are not talked about as much as the amusing things that happen every day. Sure, the employees want a raise and the employers want permission to raise the fare, but people are more apt to say "Have you heard about the guy who went to work in a hearse?"

Then there is Mrs. Fred Mayer, who lives near the bus terminal, who says, "I miss the noise." One street car operator went on a busman's holiday and drove his own car over his old route picking up his steady customers.

A radio announcer got rattled describing traffic congestion on Constitution Avenue and called it "Consternation Avenue," and that is what it was.

Some Government girls carry their high-heeled shoes as they walk to work in loafers.

One teenager is hitch-hiking just for kicks and will accept no rides in anything but late-model Cadillacs.

But just because the people of Washington are managing to get along, it doesn't mean the era of the street car is over and it's time to put one in the Smithsonian. There are some 10 billion customers using common carriers in the United States. And neither is Washington the only city of its size to be hit by such a strike. Los Angeles, Baltimore and Buffalo and other big cities know what this kind of emergency means.

Transit companies find it difficult to make money as wages and cost of equipment go up and the number of passengers go down. Some think this may lead to more and more government ownership.

Two-Country 4-H Clubs Observe Junior Dairy Day, Selken Farm

Shows Interest In Young People Work In Dairying

Nine Morgan County and 16 Pettis County 4-H members, leaders and FFA members participated in the Junior Dairy Day at the Paul and Mrs. Ernest Selken's farm on July 11. The event was sponsored by the Central Missouri Holstein Breeder's Association. "This group of dairy cattle breeders are certainly to be commended for their interest in young people," says the associate county agent. This was demonstrated by the fact that they invited all junior members regardless of the breed of cattle they own. They, like other organizations, realize that the most important crop growing on our farms today are our boys and girls.

The program dealt with fitting rations by Fred Minershagen state extension dairy specialist, and Jim Perry, associate county agent. One simple ration mentioned was 7 parts of mill run or bran, 7 parts of ground, crushed or rolled oats, 3 parts of linseed oil meal, 3 parts of rolled, crimped, or ground barley. This ration should be fed 45-60 days before show.

Paul Selken demonstrated how to clip a dairy heifer for show. The members and leaders were really impressed by the difference the clipping made on the heifer. Pete went through the clipping demonstration step by step for them emphasizing the importance of each key point. How to make a blanket from a burlap bag was also demonstrated. Pete likened the grooming of a dairy heifer or a cow to a girl getting ready for a heavy date. She wants to look her best to create a favorable impression. Likewise, each animal should look her best in the ring.

Making County Livestock Show and State Fair entries were discussed. The importance of checking and following the rules and regulations for each fair was heavily emphasized.

Lee Dow, president of the Central Missouri Holstein Breeders Association, demonstrated how to show an animal properly with emphasis on good show ring procedure. Lee placed emphasis on practice and preparation for the show will be in advance to the show date. The heifer or cow should be under the showman's control at all times. "In fact, the showman should keep one eye on the cow and one on the judge at all times," said Dow.

The members and leaders practiced judging and giving reasons. Minershagen supervised the judging session. Judging should be emphasized by all project leaders because it teaches members how to recognize good livestock and products.

Internal Parasites Must Be Eliminated From Sheep Flocks

By Sam Rowe, UM Extension Animal Husbandry Specialist
One of the most important items in caring for the farm sheep flock during the summer months is to control internal parasites, and the stomach worm is probably the parasite which gives the most trouble.

Stomach worms can be controlled by drenching with a phenothiazine-lead arsenate mixture. This is obtainable as a commercial mix at farm supply stores.

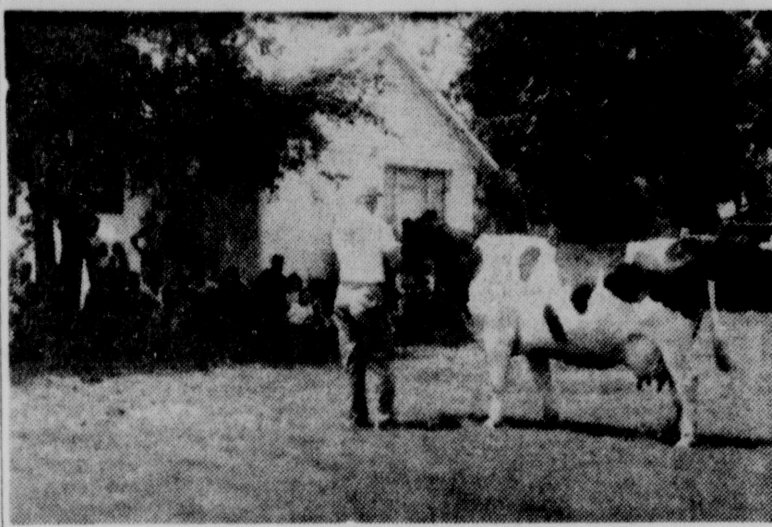

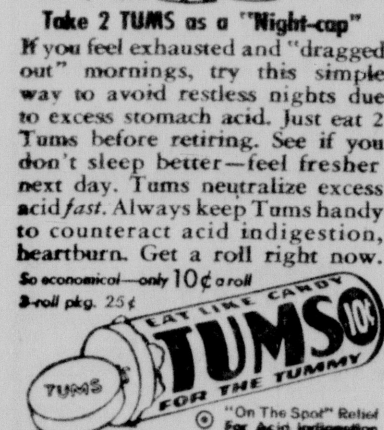

Free access to a phenothiazine-salt mixture will give good control of internal parasites in small flocks. However, as size of flock goes up parasite troubles increase at a rapid rate and the drench method of control may be needed.

So if your flock doesn't seem to be doing well and is going out of condition, internal parasites may be causing the trouble. Like other livestock, sheep need plenty of good water and some shade during the summer months. Lambs that weren't ready to go to market during June should be taken from their mothers, drenched, sheared, and, if possible, put on some good lespedeza pasture. Many lambs will fatten to choice or prime on good lespedeza pasture while a few may need a little corn later on.

Wake Up Tired?

because of acid stomach at night?
Take 2 TUMS as a "Night-cap" If you feel exhausted and "dragged out" mornings, try this simple way to avoid restless nights due to excess stomach acid. Just eat 2 Tums before retiring. See if you don't sleep better—feel fresher next day. Tums neutralize excess acid fast. Always keep Tums handy to counteract acid indigestion, heartburn. Get a roll right now. So economical—only 10¢ a roll. 3-roll pkg. 25¢.

DEMONSTRATING—In the picture above, Lee Dow is demonstrating correct show room procedure to the members who are sitting in the shade. He emphasized the importance of being alert in the ring. Above all he emphasized good sportsmanship. The old adage, "Anyone can be a good winner but not everyone can be a good loser" certainly applies to the show ring.

Many People Drink Milk—

Easy to Get Requirements Of Milk In Prepared Foods

Milk In Every Meal

Many people find milk refreshing and never tire of drinking it plain. They get their adequate amount of milk too, which is 3 or 4 cups for children, over 4 cups for adolescents, 2 or 3 cups for adults and 4 or 5 cups for the expectant mother. However, the daily required amount can be easily gotten in cooked foods and other prepared foods containing milk. This adds much to the nutritive value and gives extra dividends in flavor to plain milk.

Here are some suggestions of the many ways that milk can be used throughout the day.

For more milk at breakfast, use milk instead of water when you cook cereals. Use milk in the pancake batter and the biscuit dough. Pour hot milk over poached eggs on toast.

Milk soups can be made with a variety of vegetables, used singly or in combinations. For example: Asparagus, beans, cauliflower, celery, corn, onions, peas, potatoes, spinach, tomatoes, turnips. Chowders made with oysters or other fish, ham, or chicken or turkey are additional possibilities.

One-dish meal recipes include many opportunities to use milk in main dishes. So do most casserole dishes, including cheese custard and cheese fondue. With these many delicious variations of cream and cheese sauces a homemaker can camouflage her leftovers. In meat or fish loaves, milk can well be used as the liquid. Made with a medium-thick white sauce, many creamed dishes get ¼ to ½ cup of milk per serving into a meal; such dishes include creamed chicken, eggs, and dried beef.

Vegetables can be similarly creamed in white sauce, and scalloped vegetables baked in white sauce are all the better for the milk flavor.

Desserts bring milk to the table in unlimited ways. Cream pies — chocolate, butterscotch, and others — and pumpkin and custard pies, belong on this list. Also milk sherbets, and custards baked or soft, puddings — bread, cornstarch, junket, rice — and Bavarian creams. Puddings and pie mixes will carry more milk into meals if made with two or more parts of evaporated milk to one part of water instead of the usual one - to one dilution of evaporated milk. Needless to say, ice cream is the most popular milk dessert. Over ¾ of the homemaker's serve ice cream to their families daily.

Good drinks made with milk fit into meals and into between-meal and end-of-day snacks. Cold, flavored beverages include eggnogs, and milkshakes flavored with chocolate, vanilla, spices molasses, maple, or banana, strawberry, and other fruit purees. If there's need to keep calories low, make flavored beverages with fresh skim milk or fluid skim milk made from nonfat dry milk. For something hot, make cocoa with milk; or serve coffee European style, pouring hot milk and hot coffee together into the cup.

For still more milk value in foods, add whole or nonfat dry milk to fluid milk used in soups, mashed potatoes, cereals, and beverages. If you add ½ cup of dry milk to a pint of fluid milk, you make the food about twice as rich in milk value as it is when fluid milk is used alone.

Now with a little simple arithmetic, you can get a pretty good idea of how much milk you are getting from milk products and prepared dishes along with the amount of milk you may drink. If you tally the total in a few days' meals, you can judge how well you measure up to the quota recommended by nutritionists.

On the basis of the calcium they provide, the following are alternates for 1 cup of milk: 1½ ounces of Cheddar cheese, 11 ounces of cottage cheese (use milk if creamed), 15 ounces of cream cheese, 1 2/3 cups of ice-cream and 3 cups of milk sherbet.

Important to Control Flies in Dairy Work To Get Production

By CURTIS WINGO
MU Associate Professor of Entomology

It's important to control flies on dairy cattle to prevent a drop in milk production, lower milk quality because of bacteria spread by flies, and to get rid of a downright nuisance. There are four kinds of flies likely to give trouble on dairy cattle—horn flies, house flies, stable flies and horse flies.

Horn flies can be controlled by spraying every three weeks or as needed with 0.5 percent methoxychlor. Just the topline of the cattle needs to be sprayed and high pressure is not needed. If you have only a few milk cows, you can dust a handful of 50 per cent wettable powder methoxychlor in the hair of the topline.

To control stable flies, clean up old straw piles, silage spills and other fly breeding places. Then use a repellent type spray on the belly and legs at milking time.

Clean-up and sanitation also plays a big part in the control of houseflies. In addition, use space sprays, baited sprays or dry baits. Use a bait containing at least one per cent malathion, diptherex or diazinon.

Horse flies are more difficult to control. Spray every morning at milking time with an activated pyrethrin spray containing ten per cent piperonyl butoxide and one per cent pyrethrins. Spray on just enough to get the ends of the hair wet. These materials repel horse flies rather than kill them so frequent applications are necessary.

State 4-H Clubs Really On the March

By ARTHUR C. AUSERMAN
MU Extension State Club Agent

Summer months mean many activities and busy times for Missouri's 4-H boys and girls. To each of the club members it means Special work on individual projects along with participation in club activities such as wild life conservation, every day courtesies, grooming, marketing and safety. Voluntary leaders and parents help carry the club program in their community. With so many interested and working on the club program, it's apparent that 4-H is really "on the march."

A big part of club activities is made up of county events. Club members look forward to these as opportunities to improve themselves, to contribute service to others, and to have a good time. Some of these county-wide events are achievement days, camps, picnics, judging days, lamb shows, beef and pig shows and educational tours.

State events help club members in various ways to gain experience and training. Many state events also serve as a means of giving recognition to 4-H'ers for outstanding achievements.

Last week, nearly 200 club members from all over Missouri attended the Junior Leadership Camp at Lake Ozark State Park. These club members are all enrolled in Junior Leadership as a project and are serving in numerous leadership capacities in their own clubs. The camp program was designed to give them special leadership training.

On July 18, two other state-wide camp programs will get under way at Lake Ozark State Park. One is the State Conservation Camp for club members who have done excellent work on various phases of conservation. The other is State Health Camp for 4-H'ers who have carried outstanding health programs and who have assisted their clubs with health activities.

Four Missouri delegates recently attended National 4-H Camp at Washington, D.C. One of the speakers at the camp, Dr. Frederick Brown Harris chairman of the United States Senate, left this thought with the campers, "What you will one day be, you are now becoming." With a belief like this, 4-H boys and girls will continue to keep 4-H "on the march."

Time to Prepare For Seeding Of Late Alfalfa

It's time to start getting ready for that alfalfa seeding you plan to make the last half of August or the first part of September. Here are some of the steps extension soils specialists say are essential in getting a good stand of alfalfa which will produce a high yield of quality feed.

After deciding where and how much alfalfa to seed, the next step is to test the soil to find out how much lime and fertilizer you're going to have to put on the field. Since these basic soil treatments should be plowed under, it's high time to take those soil samples to your county agent.

Tests made three or four years ago along with a fertilizer treatment and cropping history can be used by county agents in suggesting future treatments. The accuracy of this method will depend on whether the original soil sample was properly taken.

Soil specialists emphasize that soil samples should be taken of each different kind of soil in the field. Furthermore, separate samples should be taken from the same kind of soil if part of it has had different soil treatments

To Reduce Record Carry-over—

Benson Announces Speeding Of Wheat and Flour Export

Following approval of marketing quotas for the 1956 wheat crop by a 77.5 per cent favorable vote in the June 25 referendum Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson stated that the U.S. Department of Agriculture will continue efforts to export wheat and flour to reduce record carryover wheat supplies. With an estimated carryover of more than a billion bushels on July 1, added to the 1955 production the Secretary estimates enough wheat to meet domestic demands and exports for more than two years.

In addition the Secretary indicated that the Department will continue its efforts to improve the quality of wheat produced and to reduce controls over production and utilization. To this end the Secretary indicated five specific intentions:

1. To undertake to place in effect upon the 1956 crop appropriate discounts in price supports for certain designated varieties of wheat, especially those suitable primarily for feed purposes, in an effort to improve the quality of the wheat crop.

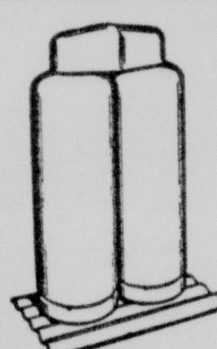

2. To continue efforts to secure favorable congressional action authorizing the secretary to broaden the noncommercial wheat area. In this area growers are not subject to acreage control. Supports are in the past or if it has been cropped differently.

Proper amounts of lime, phosphate, and potash should be plowed under. The nitrogen needed may be plowed under or put on later.

You can get more detailed information on taking soil samples and getting ready to seed alfalfa from your county extension agent.

Prepare Seeding Now Rather Than August For the Best Results

Now's the time to prepare those seedbeds for pasture seedings to be made later in the year. Extension field crop specialists at the University of Missouri say that seedbed preparation in July is much preferable to work done in August. They list three advantages in early seedbed preparation, a firmer seedbed, some of the weed seeds will germinate and then can be killed, and it tends to conserve moisture.

Of course, another item that should be taken care of is to get the land up to an adequate fertility level. Soil tests should be made and then fertilizers should be applied to the needs of the soil.

Proper fertilization helps young seedlings get a good start, helps them overcome competition from weeds, and often increases yields the first year.

There are many other factors which play a part in getting a good stand in a pasture seeding, including proper depth of seeding and using an adapted variety of seed. Also the old factor of weather can make or break a stand.

However, an adequate fertility level and early seedbed preparation can go a long way in getting a good stand in pasture seedings.

Victory Lead Increased—

Chiefs Win Over Challengers 14-3
As Semi-Pro Red Birds Lose AgainGame With Jeff City
Will Decide Standing

The challenge was given, accepted, but not defended as the Saline County Red Birds, a semi-pro club, took a 14-3 pasting at the hands of the Sedalia Ban Johnson Chiefs Sunday night at Liberty Park.

The challenge was that the Red Birds, beaten July 12, by the Chiefs would like a return game with all their regular players, as a number of their key men were not able to make the first game. The acceptance of the challenge of Bob Nightwine, the Red Bird coach, was made by Russ Gilmore the Chief mentor, who is also Nightwine's cousin.

The defense of the challenge by the Red Birds was not made good as they fell before the Chiefs by ten more runs in the second tilt than in the first. The first game was won by the Chiefs 6-5.

"Skip" Schulz started and finished the game as he struck out 22 of the Red Bird batters leaving them seven scattered hits which yielded them their three runs.

In the top of the first the Red Birds drew the first blood with one run. Miles the first baseman took first on an error by the first baseman and sent on home by a double by Matthews.

The Chiefs failed to score in the bottom of the frame and neither team tallied in the second.

The Red Birds put across a second run in the third frame as the pitcher Bear led off the inning with a single, advancing to second on an infield hit by Arth, who was put out at first. He was scored after the second out by Thompson, who got a single. The third out came on a strike out after Thompson stole second.

The bottom of the third brought the Chiefs back to the game with six big tallies. Gilbert, the lead off man for the frame, singled and then took second on a steal. He advanced to third on a passed ball. Schulz singled on his first trip to the plate and then stole second leaving two men on base. Case then doubled scoring both men. Higgins took first on a base on balls. Case was put across the plate on a single by Burton, leaving two men on base.

The next man up was Barbour who drove in both runs on a double. Barbour was then scored for the sixth run of the inning on a double by Mines.

Neither team scored in the fourth, but after holding the Red Birds in their half of the frame, the Chiefs went on to add one tally. Burton, the first man up, led off with a single and then stole second. He was scored after two outs on a single by Gilbert.

The Chiefs were the only scorers in the sixth frame also. Case singled after one out, then took second on an error by the left fielder and then went to third on an infield play and finally took home after the third out.

Neither team scored in the seventh, but the last Red Bird run came in the top of the eighth. Miles took second on a double and was scored on a single by Matthews after the second out.

The Chiefs passed the bottom of the frame with six more runs for their final tallies. The first man up, Gilbert, singled and then took second on an error. He was followed by Abney, who also singled. Case then singled scoring one run leaving runners on second and third. Burton singled scoring Abney still leaving two men on bases. Barbour then got another single scoring Case. Fall singled Burton and the two men on base were put across the plate on a double by Mines.

The Red Birds failed to rally in the ninth and the game was over with the challengers once more taking the underdog role.

Tuesday night the Chiefs travel to Jefferson City for a game with the Ban Johnson Bears. This game is important to the league standings as the Chiefs could with a win move into third position behind Columbia, who is first with a 14-5 win over Mexico Sunday and Boone.

Pits Contenders
During the Week

NEW YORK—Big Bob Baker, the second ranking heavyweight contender, risks a possible title shot tonight when he takes on pudgy Rex Layne in the Utah heavyweight's home grounds.

The two collide in a return 10-rounder at West Jordan, Utah. Baker has won nine straight, including a 10-round decision over Layne at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena, and is in line for a February title scrap if heavy-weight champion Rocky Marciano whips Archie Moore, Sept. 20.

Layne, once a topflight contender himself is ranked ninth now. Pat Lowry, an ex-marine from Toledo with crowd-pleasing style, meets Sugar Al Wilson of Englewood, N. J., in a televised 10-rounder (Dumont-TV 8 p. m. (CST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Hector Constance, Trinidad welterweight who is unbeaten in five U.S. fights, takes on Ramon Fuentes, fourth-ranking 147-pound contender in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night (ABC-TV, Radio, 8 p. m., CST). Constance is rated seventh in the division.

Sugar Ray Robinson reaches the "do or die" phase of his comeback campaign Friday when he faces speedy Rocky Castellani in a 10-rounder in the San Francisco Cow Palace. (NBC-TV, radio 8 p. m. CST).

The winner is expected to get a title crack at middleweight king Carl (Bobo) Olson, Robinson, who gave up the 160-pound crown to become a song and dance man may go back to his dancing act if he loses to the fast-moving but light-hitting Cleveland contender.

Win B. R. Games

In the first game of Babe Ruth play Friday night at Liberty Park the Western Auto club took a two-run defeat at the hands of the Browns Supply, 6-4.

The Browns took a two-run lead in the first inning, by tallying three runs after holding the Western Auto club to one run in the top of the frame.

Neither team scored then for three innings.

In the top of the fifth Western Auto closed up the Brown lead to one run, putting one run across the plate and then holding the Browns scoreless in the bottom of the frame.

The sixth inning brought the Browns another three-run rally after putting the Western Autos down scoreless in the top of the frame.

The Western Autos came back with a two-run rally in the seventh, but failed to get the needed runs to tie or win, so the Browns took a 6-4 victory.

Burglar Stabs Young

Mother to Her Death

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Rita Holzer, 26, rising early today to feed her 6-months-old baby, found a burglar in her apartment.

She screamed. Joseph Palazzola, another tenant in the building rushed to her apartment and found her on the floor, stabbed. The baby was in the crib unharmed.

Other tenants heard heavy footsteps of a man running from the building. Her empty wallet was found in a trash container on a fire escape. An employee of a nearby apartment told police he saw a Negro flee from the building.

She managed to tell Palazzola what had happened before she lapsed into unconsciousness.

Mrs. Holzer died in City Hospital four hours later of the wound.

Cards Win 1,
Suspend Other
At Pittsburgh

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southpaw Harvey Haddix, flashing the form that made him a 20-game winner two years ago, ran afoul of the law in a bid to pitch the St. Louis Cardinals to a shut-out victory.

The Cards hung on for a 9-8 triumph in 12 innings in the first game of a doubleheader against the Pirates at Pittsburgh yesterday. And Haddix had a 1-0 lead and a three-hitter going when the second game was suspended after 7½ innings because of a Pennsylvania curfew law. The game won't be completed until Aug. 30.

Rip Repulski of the Cardinals slammed his 18th and 19th home runs in the see-saw opening game, the first one traveling 425 feet. But it was a substitute shortstop, Bob Stephenson, who drove in a 12th inning run with a single and then scored himself with what proved to be the deciding marker on a double by Ken Boyer. The decision went to Luis Arroyo, one of five Redbird pitchers used in the 3½-hour struggle.

Haddix, who has a 6-9 record and only five complete games to his credit this year, drove in the only run in the suspended game in the top of the eighth after Manager Harry Walker delivered a pinch double.

Kansas City didn't get past second base in losing 4-0 to right-hander Spec Shea and the Washington Nationals at Kansas City. Shea, making his first start of the season, held the A's to three hits. Washington tagged Vic Raschi for two runs in the first inning and then knocked him out with two more in the eighth.

Billy Graham Leads
Prayer In Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—Billy Graham led nearly 25,000 worshippers in prayer last night for the summit conference, which he declared "could well decide the fate of the world."

Standing on the shore of Lake Lemman, the American evangelist urged the Big Four leaders to put aside national greed and turn to God.

"The next six days could be the most important days in history," he said, gazing across the lake toward the Palace of Nations, where the historic conference is being held.

"Never before in history," he said, "have so many looked to so few for so much."

Says More Rain Can Be Expected Today

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Fairly heavy showers fell in southern and southeastern Missouri yesterday and last night, and the Weather Bureau said those sections may expect more this afternoon and tonight.

Generally fair weather continued today in the north portion of the state.

Little change in temperature with no extremes was forecast.

The showers produced .81 of an inch of precipitation at Malden, 77 at West Plains, .70 at Springfield and .33 at Farmington.

Middlecoff
Top Winner
After Open

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff moved on toward the National PGA Tournament this week after extracting enough first money from the rich Milwaukee Open yesterday to make him top winner among golf's touring pros this week.

The Memphis dentist set a gallery of some 5,000 to sighting yesterday on the Blue Mound Country Club layout when he went 2 over par on the 12th hole of his final round, then steadied for three birdies and a 68 that gave him a 15-under-par 265.

Four strokes behind the Masters and Western Open winner were Mike Souchak, Grossinger's N.Y.; Julius Boros, Mid Pines N.C.; and Ted Kroll, Utica, N.Y.

Middlecoff won $6,000 in cash and a $3,000 automobile. It gave him 1955 earnings of $22,543.93 and a lead over Souchak, whose share of second place was worth $3,066. Souchak's current winnings now are $21,256.74.

Middlecoff started fast in the $35,000 tourney with a 64 that tied the course record, then lost both that distinction and the lead as well to Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N.Y., who fired a 63 Friday for a halfway total of 130.

Turnesa picked up fifth place money of $1,800 with a 72-hole mark of 270. Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mike Fetchick, Lake Mahopac, N.Y., earned $1,500 each with their 271s. Singer Don Cherry also had 271 to pace the amateur delegation.

Davis Cup Fight
Still Is Waged
By Australians

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry Hopman, non-playing captain of the Australian Davis Cup tennis team rates Australia's chances of regaining the cup from the United States "fifty-fifty if we don't get beat along the way."

The Aussies shouldn't get beat if their performance against Mexico was any indication. They swept by the Mexican team, 5-0, losing only one set in four singles and one doubles match.

The sweep sends the Australians ahead in the North American zone semi-finals. Brazil moved ahead in the zone competition by winning its first round series with Cuba at Havana, 4-1.

Hopman, who'll take his team to Louisville, Ky., this weekend against Brazil, said "we're not contemplating any trouble against Brazil, but then you never can tell."

"Italy will probably give us our toughest test if the Italian team wins the European zone, which it should," he added.

Assuming Australia beats Brazil, the Aussies would have to go against Canada to determine the American zone winner. The victor in that match would move against Japan and then against the European winner before the challenge round against the United States at Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 26-28.

Mother of Newspaper
Family Dies Sunday

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Chadbourne Houser, widow and mother of former executives of the Globe-Democrat Publishing Co., died yesterday of infirmities complicated by pneumonia. She was 89.

Her husband, William M. Houser, was secretary-treasurer of the publishing company when he died in 1900, and her son, William Chadbourne Houser, was second vice president and secretary of the company when he died in 1950.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Smith of suburban Webster Groves and Mrs. Grace McKinley of Washington, D. C.

The four plan to leave Aug. 4 and stay in the Soviet Union two weeks.

Demo and Republican
Join on Atom Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic chairman and senior Republican senator on the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee joined forces today in a fight for more atomic appropriations.

Chairman Anderson (D-NM) and Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said in their weekend interviews that cuts in funds for the Atomic Energy Commission could disrupt programs for the production of nuclear weapons and for peaceful use of atomic energy.

President Eisenhower protested Friday a 144 million dollar cut by Congress in the budget he had asked for the AEC. The appropriation was $1,380,847,000.

Plan Cleanup To Aid Funds For Firetruck

By B. B. Thrig

SMITHTON—Mr. Lester Estling, son-in-law of Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Verts, died at his home near LaMonte, Ia., on Tuesday, July 12. His funeral was held at that place on July 14. Those who attended from here were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Verts, uncle of Mrs. Estling, and Mrs. Shelby Monsees, her aunt. Mrs. Monsees was accompanied by her brother and sister, Mr. Odie Nowlin and Mrs. Alvin Wilde of Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Webb and daughter, came Saturday and Mrs. Glenn Webb, who had been spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. George Luetjen, and uncle, Charles Monsees, returned to her home at Raymore with them.

The Smithton Community Club, with Mr. William Erling as president, held its regular meeting in the City Park on Tuesday, July 12. Among other business they discussed the changing of the light poles around the park to be placed inside so that it would afford better lighting facilities for socials and other outdoor meetings during the summer months. The new fire truck which was delivered a few weeks ago still lacks some payments and they decided to make a drive for paper, old rags and scrap iron to supplement the money on hand. It was suggested that the old scale house in the park would be a good place to store these items until they could be disposed of and it is hoped that everyone in the community will have a general clean up day and contribute all such items as they do not have need for. Another thing planned for was an ice cream social in the park on the 12th of August.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lujin spent the weekend with her brother, Mr. J. H. Grotjan, and Mrs. Grotjan of Holden.

Miss Mary Ruth Mason, R.N., daughter of Mrs. William Mason, formerly Bernice Green, and Mr. Mason has entered Barnes Hospital in St. Louis for a post graduate course in anesthesiology. Those visiting in the Strain home were: Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Chatterton, formerly Celeste Lamm, and daughter, Charlene, Colorado Springs, Colo. also Charles Lamm, Jr., and daughters, Sally and Nancy, Darian, Conn. The Chattertons accompanied by Miss Libby Lamm Strain, visited with relatives in Sedalia and Smithton on their way back to their home in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Schell Bodenhamer and family, Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bodenhamer and children, Sedalia, and Mr. John Green were visitors in the F. H. Bodenhamer home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. "Peg" Pace, Patty and Jimmie, Fulton, were weekend visitors in the homes of Miss Eva Pace and Mrs. A. J. Hotsenpiller.

Mrs. Ralph Porter Wood, former Ruth Hoernner and children, Allen Ray and Terry, Detroit, Mich., are spending some time visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hoernner, and also in the Earl Wood home north of Smithton. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoernner and children from Grandview came Sunday and spent the day. The children, Louis Lee and Neal, stayed for a longer visit with their grandparents.

The committee chairman and circle leaders of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Meyer. Among other business they made plans for a fried chicken supper to be served in Fellowship Hall in the church basement on Friday night, July 29. They will also serve vegetables, salads, pie, tea and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gallagher, Kansas City, spent the past week in the home of Mrs. Gallagher's brother Norman Wehmier and Mrs. Wehmier south of Smithton. On Monday night they were all entertained at a fish fry at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wigton on East Highway 50. There were 23 present at the supper served out of doors on their new patio. On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Wehmier entertained the following friends with an afternoon luncheon in honor of her guest: Mrs. Kalo Monsees, Mrs. Virgil Quint, Mrs. Vest Striet, Smithton, and Mrs. Clayton Haire, Mrs. George Routsong, and Mrs. W. P. Tucker, Sedalia. On Wednesday night the Wehmiers and their guests drove to Camden and enjoyed the rodeo. The Gallagher's were accompanied to Sedalia by their son, Norman, and a boy friend who spent the week on the Lake of the Ozarks. They all returned to their home in Kansas City on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hawkins, formerly Norma Scott, have named their new son, born July 1, Daniel Matthew. They have two other sons Jimmie, age 7, and Allen, 4. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins will move to Kansas City in a short time where he has employment with the Kellogg Telephone Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edwards, Jr., and daughter, Lyndall, and son, Mark, have been visiting the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson, Robert and Eunice, Mr. Edwards has been transferred from the state of California to Tennessee and they will go to their new home when his furlough is ended. Another daughter, Mrs. Bill Lambert, Watertown, N.Y., is also visiting with the Hudson family. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert and children, Mary Allyn, Buddy and Douglas, came Sunday. They will also visit friends in Colorado before going to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellison were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards and Miss Daisy Moore on last Thursday. The Ellison's also visited with Mrs. Mae Stratton in Sedalia one day last week. J. D. Stratton and wife and children of Texas were guests in the Stratton home at that time.

The Salvation Army drive in Sweet Springs is nearing the close. The chairmen appointed to head the project were: Mrs. Glenn Winder, Mrs. E. C. O'Neal and Mrs. William Hill. The town divided into seven divisions and captains were appointed for each. The captains are: first, Mrs. Walter Spaulder; second, Mrs. Raymond Winder; third, Mrs. Irvin Hoffman; fourth, Mrs. Harvey House; fifth, Mrs. C. K. Smith; sixth, Mrs. Henry Alpers and Mrs. Rudy Krause; and the seventh was worked by the three chairmen as a result of being unable to get a captain for this part.

PEEK-A-BOO—The bride may be blushing, but you'd never know it. Both she and the groom wear heavy veils during their wedding at the Pakistan embassy in Washington. In a simple Moslem ceremony, Syed Amjad Ali, youngest brother of Pakistan Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali, was married to Perwin Ahsan. He had not seen her since October.

Audition By Phone
OMAHA (AP)—An audition by telephone from New York has won 17-year-old Jane Fonda her first professional stage role.
She joined her father, actor Henry Fonda, and Dorothy McGuire in the community playhouse production of "Country Girl" here June 24-26. It was with the same playhouse group that Fonda and Miss McGuire made their own debuts.
Jane Fonda phoned playhouse director Kendrick Wilson from New York one Sunday to ask for a "Country Girl" part. As far as Wilson was concerned she cinched an ingenue's role during a 20-minute long distance telephone audition.

But, Wilson said, it took some help from Miss McGuire to sell Fonda, who was in Hollywood, on the idea.
Jane is studying dramatics at a Troy, N. Y., school.

In southeast Pakistan, people often keep cows as a sign of prosperity although they make no use of their meat, milk or hides.

Beaten-up Car
GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—When a customer brought a well-battered car to a dealer and asked for a price on it in exchange for a new one, the dealer looked, winced and named a rock-bottom price.
To the dealer's amazement, the customer replied, "I'll take it."
Seems he had beaten angry at the running eccentricities of the car and had beaten the windows out of it with a baseball bat.

Convict Trial Reopens Monday At Poplar Bluff

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., (P) — The second murder trial of James William (Slick) Stidham, accused as a ringleader in the riot at the state prison in Jefferson City last September, starts today with selection of a jury in Butler County Circuit Court.

His first trial, brought here on a change of venue from Cole County, ended in a mistrial after members of the jury admitted reading a newspaper story about the court proceedings.

Four other convicts have been convicted in the case, with three receiving life terms and the fourth a death sentence. Seven convicts, including Stidham, were charged with stabbing and beating to death Walter Lee Donnell, another convict who had turned informer.

James T. Riley, Cole County prosecuting attorney, has summoned 16 witnesses for the trial here.

Paul Edward Kenton, convicted at Union last week and sentenced to life, named Stidham as one of the convicts who stabbed Donnell while Kenton held the victim's arms behind him. The statement was in a signed confession which was admitted in evidence after Kenton repudiated it.

Stidham was serving a 25-year sentence for a Kansas City robbery at the time of the prison riot.

Mrs. D. Pulley also accompanied them and while here visited her niece Mrs. L. J. Kempf and daughter Joyce.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tavenner and nephew Ronnie, spent a part of the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tavenner.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Cole attended the Cordry reunion at Booneville Park Sunday, July 3.

Rains and Floods Hit Around Cassville Area

CASSVILLE, Mo., (P) — Torrential rains and flash floods struck this southwest Missouri county seat twice within less than 15 hours Saturday.

One storm struck in the early morning hours and dumped some three inches of rain on the community. Flat Creek left its banks and routed persons living in low-lying areas.

The second storm came in the afternoon, accompanied by some four inches of rain northwest of the city. Highway 37 at the edge of Cassville was flooded. No serious damage was reported, however.

At Pineville, some 25 miles away, a storm powered by 50-mile winds toppled trees while lightning struck a utility pole and interrupted power for more than three hours.
